The Eureka Lions Club and others from Eureka came together on Saturday, Oct. 10 to help Judee Craig, who lives off grid along Cedar Creek in Antelope Valley.

It all began this summer when Abby Sweet, art teacher and president of the Eureka Lions club, brought the project to the club. Abby's friend, Judee Craig, had about twenty, 12-foot Ponderosa pine logs that needed to be cut to length, split and stacked at Judee's residence to provide heat for the winter. To make the project more difficult, the logs were about 150 yards from the house. The club needed chainsaws and equipment to cut, split and move

Rebelle Rally Makes Northernmost Stop in Eureka

By Winnona Eversgerd

The 11th annual Rebelle Rally made an overnight marathon stage stop in Eureka on Saturday, Oct. 10, during its 2,500-kilometer navigation challenge across California, Nevada, and Utah. The Rebelle Rally is the longest competitive off-road navigation rally in the United States and it's exclusively for women.

The 10-day event includes eight full days of driving and covers more than 1,550 miles. Teams navigate using only paper maps, a compass, a roadbook, and a teammate. All GPS-based navigation devices, whether in the vehicle or on cellphones, are deactivated for the duration of the rally. This year's event hosts 45 teams from 24 states and four countries. Over the years, participants have come from across the United States and the world, including Austria, Germany, France, New Zealand, Japan, Australia, South Korea, Costa Rica, Mexico, Senegal, Belgium, Dubai, and Kenya.

The 2026 Rebelle Rally began on Oct. 7 at the Las Vegas Motor Speedway and concluded on Oct. 16 at Imperial Sand Dunes at Glamis, CA. This is not a race for speed but rather a game of strategy, precision, and endurance. Competitors drive in one of two vehicle classes, the 4X4 class, featuring four-wheel drive with low range, and the X-Cross class, which are all-wheel drive vehicles without low range. Women ranging in age from 28 to 71 are competing in this year's rally.

Every morning the teams get a new checkpoint guide, then uses their paper map to plot their route, using longitude and latitude to guide them. When they find a checkpoint, they use a handheld tracker to record their score.

The course gets challenging and uses different color markers to award points. The Green Flag Pole indicates the team is on the correct path, Blue Checkpoint is a manned point that earns extra points, and the Black point is an unmanned, unmarked point that gives points based on how close to the bullseye they get.

Rebelle Rally #174 in front of Eureka Opera House.

Base camps travel with the rally and are located at the end of the route each day, providing bathrooms, showers, first-aid, mechanic stations, food tents and lodging. Once or twice during the rally, teams will go to a Marathon Stage, where they camp overnight without the usual base-camp amenities. Eureka, the most northern stop in Rebelle Rally history, served as a Marathon Stage stop this year.

While in Eureka, participants set up tents on the softball field, with a first-aid station located near the bathrooms. Teams requiring mechanical repairs worked outside the ballfield and worked in the dark to repair their vehicles. The teams went to the Urban Cowboy for dinner and were able to tour the town on their way back.

These are women from all walks of life, taking time out of their busy lives to work through some very hard and difficult terrain with a teammate who helps navigate the course. At the end of the journey, these women have learned strength, resilience, determination and lots of self-confidence.

Hair Sentenced to Up to 10 Years in Prison on Firearms Convictions

Staff report

A man convicted of illegally possessing and carrying a concealed firearm in Crescent Valley has been sentenced to a combined prison term of 47 to 120 months in the Nevada Department of Corrections.

Dale Austin Hair was sentenced September 18 in Eureka County's Seventh Judicial District Court following an April 30 jury verdict finding him guilty of possession of a firearm by a prohibited person, a Category B felony, and carrying a concealed weapon, a Category C felony.

According to an amended criminal information filed April 22, the charges stemmed from an incident on or about January 14, 2026, in Crescent Valley. Prosecutors alleged that Hair, who was prohibited by law from possessing a firearm, had a gun on his person and was carrying it concealed without a permit.

The court sentenced Hair to 28 to 72 months for possession of a firearm by a prohibited person and an additional 19 to 48 months for carrying a concealed weapon. The sentences are to be served consecutively, resulting in a minimum prison term of 47 months and a maximum of 10 years.

Prior Convictions Considered

The prosecution also sought habitual-criminal sentencing based on Hair's prior felony convictions in Indiana.

The amended criminal information identified seven prior convictions dating from 2019 through 2024, including theft, corrupt business influence, attempted theft, resisting law enforcement, carrying a handgun without a license, theft of a firearm and operating while intoxicated.

The convictions were entered in Indiana courts in Whitley and Allen counties.

Prosecutors filed two alternative habitual-criminal allegations. One cited seven prior felony convictions and sought sentencing under Nevada's Category A habitual-criminal statute. The other cited five prior convictions under the state's Category B habitual-criminal provisions.

At sentencing, the court dismissed the allegation involving seven prior convictions. Although the judge determined that Hair qualified under the allegation involving five prior convictions, the court elected not to enter judgment on that allegation.

Hair was therefore sentenced on the two firearms convictions without an additional habitual-criminal sentence.

The court also granted Hair credit for 248 days previously served and ordered him to pay a $25 administrative assessment.

Eureka County Public Defender Jane Eberhardy represented Hair. Eureka County District Attorney Theodore Beutel represented the state at sentencing.

The judgment and sentence were signed September 21 and filed September 22, 2026.

FROM THE EDITOR

WINNONA'S WINDOW

Last week I wrote about "coincidences," those little nudges from God that help me make meaning of things and keep a more positive attitude. The best way I know to stay positive is by paying attention, and noticing the goodness that surrounds me every day.

A few days ago, while scrolling Facebook, I came across photos of friends out cutting wood. The post explained that several Lions Club members had gathered a group to help a woman haul, cut, and stack firewood. My immediate thought was of my friend, Mike Podborny, because it seems he is always helping someone.

The very next day, I stopped by the Eureka Depot to meet someone, and there was Mike. I asked him about the wood cutting project, because I am always on the lookout for a great story for the paper, and he told me about the woman who needed help gathering wood. Then he added, "I could write an article about it for the paper if you would like?"

The timing of that offer was magical. I had been feeling the weight of my new role as editor, more demanding than I expected, and Mike's kindness gave me a moment to breathe. His willingness to write the article reminded me that I don't have to do everything alone. I should have been asking for help all along. My immediate response was a very grateful "Yes! That would be wonderful."

Mike sent me the wood cutting article within a few hours of that brief interaction on Monday. On Tuesday, he was helping with St. Brendan's Bingo Night, setting up the bingo board, adjusting the microphone, preparing to call numbers, and then staying afterward with Diane, his wife, to stack chairs and load equipment into trucks. On Wednesday, he showed up to help unload the Catholic Charities delivery truck, then stayed after to break down boxes so he could haul them to the dump. A few weeks ago, Mike and Diane were working along Highway 50 picking up trash and next weekend they will be organizing the pumpkin patch for the kids.

Mike and his wife, Diane, have been members of the Eureka Lions Club for more than 30 years. Their involvement has given them many opportunities to serve, but not every act of kindness Mike offers is tied to being a Lion. His generosity isn't a role he plays; it's simply who he is. He is civically minded, yes, but more importantly, he is a genuinely good-hearted person with a generous spirit.

I just marvel at how many times I see Mike quietly supporting this community. When I initially showed my husband the wood cutting photos, he said, "Mike is always helping others. He should win some kind of award." I'm not sure he'll ever receive a public award for all the kind and helpful things he does, but I wanted to recognize the positive impact he has had on me.

Mike exemplifies positivity and generosity. He intentionally sets out to help other people, but I bet he isn't even aware of the powerful impact he had during a simple interaction at the coffee shop. And sometimes, those "coincidences" I wrote about aren't coincidences at all. They are people like Mike showing up at exactly the right moment, reminding us that goodness and kindness are everywhere if we take the time to notice them.

the wood and people to do all of it. It was obvious the club did not have enough people to complete the project. The project was loosely organized and an October day was set.

The chainsaws roared, cut lengths were loaded onto pickups and hauled to the splitting area, as a tractor with forks moved uncut logs up to the work area. Two wood splitters were splitting logs and wood was being stacked. As volunteer projects go, things worked out great. No one got hurt and six to seven cords of wood were cut, split, and stacked. Judee was very thankful and said she has enough wood for two or three years.

The Eureka Lions Club members included: Abby Sweet, Diane and Mike Podborny, Fiona and Andy Goettle, Gina DeValera, and Fabrizio Cartageua. Other Eureka volunteers included Danny Brown, Shauna Brown, Trypp Brown, Elden Allred, Josie Hoekenga, Monte and Heather Hudson, Campbell Goettle, Audrey Goettle and Christopher Hudson. Nancy and John Larimer from the Hot Springs Ranch also worked and Nancy provided dinner for everyone. A special thanks to Monte Hudson for bringing his tractor and operating it all day, as well as Bill Hicks for lending us his wood splitter.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

By Winnona Eversgerd

Meet the Candidates is a new forum designed to shine a spotlight on the people who are running for local government seats in the upcoming November 3 election. We will ask each candidate the same set of questions, and provide an overview of their responses. We hope that by focusing on each contested seat, we can showcase each candidate, providing information that may be helpful when making your selection at the voting booth. The second set of candidates are running for Eureka County School Board Trustee Seat 2B.

I sat down with Fred Buckmaster to ask him about his run for Eureka County School Board.

Fred Buckmaster.

Tell me a little about yourself:

I was born and raised in Fallon. My folks were both teachers. They both retired from Churchill County School District. My sister and cousins are teachers. We're teachers. I know how the education process works.

What brought you to Eureka and when did you move here?

We moved here when we bought the old Ardan place out on Allison Creek in Antelope Valley in 2019. Our kids were all grown. My wife, Jan, and I have been married for 14 or 15 years. I was retiring from the school district and we don't particularly like to be around a lot of people.

Why do you want to join the school board?

Well, my folks and family were always really civically minded and that's what you do. You try to give back. I grew up in education. I spent 25 years in education and that's kind of what I know. If I can give back and help the kids and help the education process in Eureka, that's good. I kind of feel it's a duty. You need to give back. You need to serve.

What experiences or skills have prepared you to serve as a trustee?

I've spent 25 years as a teacher in Fallon and I also served a term on the school board in Churchill County. I was elected in 2018 and my term ended in 2022, so I served part of it from here. I have experience dealing with education. I've dealt with grants and I've dealt with funding and I've dealt with bureaucracy, and all the crap that comes with it.

What are three top issues facing Eureka County and education currently?

Well, education in Eureka County, I think there's a lot of stuff. I'm not completely up on it. I know it's still in the Nevada State Constitution, but I think it's mining taxes used to fund education. The money got pulled from funding, like, specifically, Eureka, and it got thrown into the general fund for education, and I don't think that's right. I don't think that's right at all. If the other counties want to have mining tax money, they're going to need to go find some mines.

Can you explain what the school funding formula is?

I can't. No. I can't go into the specifics, because I don't know what it is. I know how it went. And right now, with all the changes in the federal government where they're abolishing the Department of Education, I think there's going to be more funding on the state level. I sure hope with it coming down on the state level, that there's more input from the state on how education works in our counties.

Is there anything you would like to add that wasn't covered in these questions?

I don't have an agenda. I just want to help. One thing I would like to really see is, and this goes for all public education, is that school boards drive curriculum. They need to speak up to the university system and the colleges because we need more vocational teachers, and they need to implement it back into the school's curriculum. Problem is, if there's any interest, you get something started, then you go look for a teacher, and you can't find one. We can't find anybody. What contractor that's making a quarter of a million dollars a year wants to go work for $60,000 a year in the school system and put up with a bureaucracy. None of them. They're not stupid.

By Winnona Eversgerd

Dillon Pollock.

I sat down with Dillon Pollock to ask some questions about running for his second term on the Eureka County School Board. Dillon currently holds the board 2A seat. His move from Eureka town site to Diamond Valley places him in seat 2B.

Tell me a little about yourself?

I'm Dillon Pollock. I'm a father of four, a farmer, a rancher and I work in the gold mining industry. I cherish the small-town life and rural values.

What brought you to Eureka and when did you move here?

I married Deanna and her family lives here. We moved here in 2021.

Why do you want to join the school board? Let me clarify. You are currently trustee for seat 2A, but you are now running for seat 2B?

Yes. I'm running for Halle's seat. She's not running again. I have four small kids coming up, and they're going to be in the school system within the next four years. I would like to have a voice in the decisions made by the district.

What experiences or skills have prepared you to serve as a board member? You've already served 4 years, how was that experience?

Great. It was a learning curve at first. Now I'm a more experienced board member that can learn from past faults and carry forward innovative ideas.

What are the top three issues facing the Eureka County School Board and education?

Well, there's a declining enrollment and declining revenue across the country. We need to adjust to that and be proactive. Technology would be another one. With the rise of AI and other technologies, we need to stay on top of that, too. We need to keep our kids safe, while also keeping them up to speed with the latest technologies. The third would be keeping our rural way of life, with common sense values as part of our kids' education.

Can you explain what the school funding formula is and how the district receives its money?

Well, now it's through the state, paid out on a per pupil expenditure. It's like the federal system where they pay you per kid, which is a change from using our net proceeds as in years passed.

Is there anything you would like to add that wasn't covered in these questions?

I just want people to know that when I'm on the board, I take it as an act of community service. I do it because I have four kids that are going to be coming through the school system. I have skin in the game, and I know that I can have an impact on the district. I can steer the district in ways that reflect my values; one small town, old fashioned family values.

Have You Already Made Up Your Mind?

By Rachel Dahl

As our rural communities face serious decisions about rapid industrial growth, this week we're looking at something fundamental to our constitutional republic: due process.

Imagine spending two years preparing a development proposal, hiring engineers, completing studies and following the rules, only to discover the officials deciding your application have already made up their minds.

Is that a fair hearing, or just a formality?

Now turn it around.

You're a homeowner concerned about a development next door. You've taken time off work to attend the public hearing, only to find the officials seem determined to approve it regardless of what anyone says.

What good is a public hearing if nobody is really listening?

Philosophers and our founding fathers spent considerable time worrying about this question. In fact, Aristotle was thinking about it more than 2,300 years ago.

In his Politics, Aristotle argued that government should be ruled by law rather than the personal desires of those in power. Even good people, he understood, can be influenced by friendships, anger, ambition and self-interest.

His conclusion was that law should be reason, free from passion.

Which is a pretty good argument for having rules in the first place – we don't want the rules changing depending on who owns the property, who knows the mayor, or who happens to be sitting on the county commission this week.

Fast forward to the American founding.

John Adams helped write the Massachusetts Constitution of 1780, which called for impartial interpretation of the law and established a principle fundamental to American government: "a government of laws, and not of men."

Seven years later, James Madison took up a related problem in Federalist No. 10.

Madison understood that people naturally form factions, groups united by common interests, opinions and prejudices. He wasn't particularly optimistic about eliminating those tendencies. Instead, he argued that representative government could help control them by choosing people whose judgment could rise above temporary passions and consider the public good.

Notice Madison wasn't suggesting representatives should have no opinions. We elect people because we want them to exercise judgment. But there's a difference between having an opinion and being unwilling to consider anything that might change it.

Which brings us to due process.

The Fifth Amendment protects against the federal government depriving people of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The Fourteenth Amendment extends that protection to state and local governments.

We usually associate due process with courtrooms and judges, but it can also apply when local governments make decisions affecting protected rights.

And here's where an important distinction comes in.

Sometimes elected and appointed officials are making laws and policies, acting in their legislative function.

When a city council debates zoning ordinances or a school board sets its budget, officials are expected to have opinions. That's their job. They can campaign on those

County Tackles Public Defender Search, Rough Roads, and Staffing Shortages

By Johnny Fitzgerald

Finding a public defender, filling county jobs, and improving JD Ranch Road were among the issues before Eureka County commissioners on Oct. 6.

The board advanced plans to seek public defender proposals, heard that approximately 20 county positions were vacant, and reviewed road work prompted by concerns about deliveries and livestock shipping.

PUBLIC DEFENDER SEARCH

Homa Sayyar, deputy director of the Nevada Department of Indigent Defense Services, outlined a contracting process covering attorney qualifications, client communication, workload, and reporting. The county's current arrangement followed the retirement of the longtime contract attorney, and expires in December.

Sayyar proposed posting the request before Nov. 1 to bring the process into line with the county's indigent defense plan. She cautioned that costs could rise because current rates are below the applicable minimum.

Chairman Rich McKay asked what would happen if no attorneys applied. Sayyar assured commissioners that the state department would help find another arrangement to keep representation available for people who cannot afford an attorney.

District Attorney Ted Beutel asked about evaluating applicants. Sayyar explained that the department could provide information about eligible attorneys, while the county would make the selection.

JD RANCH ROAD

Road Supervisor Scooter Mentaberry reported complaints from Grass Valley and JD Ranch residents prompted him to redirect southern crews from other assignments. A rancher raised delivery concerns while preparing to ship calves and haul hay.

Crews had graded about 20 miles over the previous month and applied magnesium chloride to roughly 10 miles to help hold the surface together.

Mentaberry explained that a water supply that had been down during the summer had returned, but uneven flow could leave crews waiting more than an hour to fill a truck before reaching the work area. Mentaberry stated he was working with Nevada Gold Mines on a more dependable connection.

STAFFING AND CODE ENFORCEMENT

Human resources consultant Stacy Collette reported approximately 20 vacancies, including nine positions in the Sheriff's Office. Plans include improving recruitment, helping supervisors use the hiring system, and scheduling interviews regularly.

Sheriff Miles Umina outlined work with human resources and the district attorney on a code enforcement and civil administrator position, including refining the job description, pursuing a hiring-freeze waiver, and arranging training while ordinance provisions are developed.

The discussion followed a resident's request during public comment to address property-maintenance concerns. Umina described the issue as extending beyond one community. No ordinance was adopted.

Sheriff Umina reported three mental-health crises during the preceding week, coordination with emergency medical services, and one major felony incident and arrest.

Commissioners approved the fiscal 2026–27 agreement with the Washoe County Sheriff's Office for forensic-science services as needed.

AIRPORT, BUILDINGS, AND RECREATION

Commissioners ratified a $113,000 airport grant covering valley-gutter replacement and design work for resealing the runway, taxiway, and apron. They approved Sierra Nevada Construction's $84,150 gutter proposal and contract-signing authority. Staff confirmed the work was completed and funded through the grant, with a county match.

Commissioners allowed the courthouse heating-and-cooling replacement and related mini-split work to proceed, with billing to return for ratification at the next meeting. Staff explained that overall figures were correct, but the project breakdown needed clarification for invoice tracking and audits.

Public Works reported that the Crescent Valley park walking track was nearing completion, and exercise equipment was being prepared for installation. Pool coping installation was expected by late October after manufacture and shipment. No reopening date was announced.

Recreation Board Chairman Elmer Porter advised that declining tourism revenue could mean a smaller budget. Ball-field and downtown improvements remained proposals; no recreation project was approved.

TECHNOLOGY AND OTHER BUSINESS

Commissioners approved a one-year Cisco Webex renewal through Quest for up to $15,280.20. Staff described moving more telephone service toward Microsoft Teams and First Digital to reduce costs and simplify access.

The board approved $23,038.66 for fiber between Tank Hill and the vault outside the VAC, and up to $10,400 for Ironclad support and training. Expenditures totaling $3,147,191.32 included road maintenance, a landfill study, retiree insurance, and building maintenance.

Commissioners canceled Nov. 3 and Nov. 17 meetings, scheduling Nov. 12 to canvass the election, and proclaimed Oct. 26–29 Red Ribbon Week. Juvenile Probation Officer Steve Zimmerman outlined school activities in Eureka and Crescent Valley.

Commissioners approved November conference travel for Zimmerman and Marilyn Strickland-Adams, with Zimmerman reporting that PACE Coalition would reimburse registration, hotel, and airfare, and extended two employees' catastrophic-leave waiver by 90 days.

Other actions included the September wine walk and VFW car show road-closure ratifications, event fee waivers, and exchanging Nick Collins' and Laura Shivers' member and alternate roles on the Crescent Valley Medical Services Advisory Committee. Local Emergency Planning Committee and Central Nevada Health District reports were postponed.

Finding a public defender, filling county jobs, and improving JD Ranch Road were among the issues before Eureka County commissioners on Oct. 6.

positions, argue for them and vote accordingly.

But when those same officials apply existing laws to a particular application or dispute, they may be performing a quasi-judicial function. The fancy way of saying they're acting something like a judge.

Instead of deciding what the rules ought to be, they're deciding whether a proposal meets the rules already established. Depending on the proceeding, that brings additional obligations to consider evidence fairly, follow procedures and avoid disqualifying conflicts.

An unpopular proposal doesn't necessarily violate the law and a developer spending millions of dollars isn't automatically entitled to approval.

The responsibility is to apply the law to the facts.

In 1991, the Nevada Supreme Court addressed due process in Bing Construction Co. v. County of Douglas, involving a gravel operation whose existing permit rights were affected by a county decision.

The Court found the company had not received adequate notice and a meaningful opportunity to respond before its rights were impaired. It also emphasized the importance of evidence supporting land-use decisions.

In other words, process matters, even when officials believe they're acting for good reasons, which we should remember at our city council, county commission, planning commission and school board meetings.

The person behind the microphone may be our neighbor, our friend or someone we've disagreed with for years. We don't have to agree with them, but we should understand what kind of decision they're making, what rules govern it and whether everyone entitled to participate has been treated fairly.

A fair hearing doesn't guarantee you'll win. It doesn't mean every concern will persuade the board, or that officials must set aside the law because a roomful of people demand a particular result.

It means following the rules, considering the evidence and keeping an open mind.

We don't elect people to public office because we expect them to agree with us on everything. We elect them because we trust them to exercise judgment.

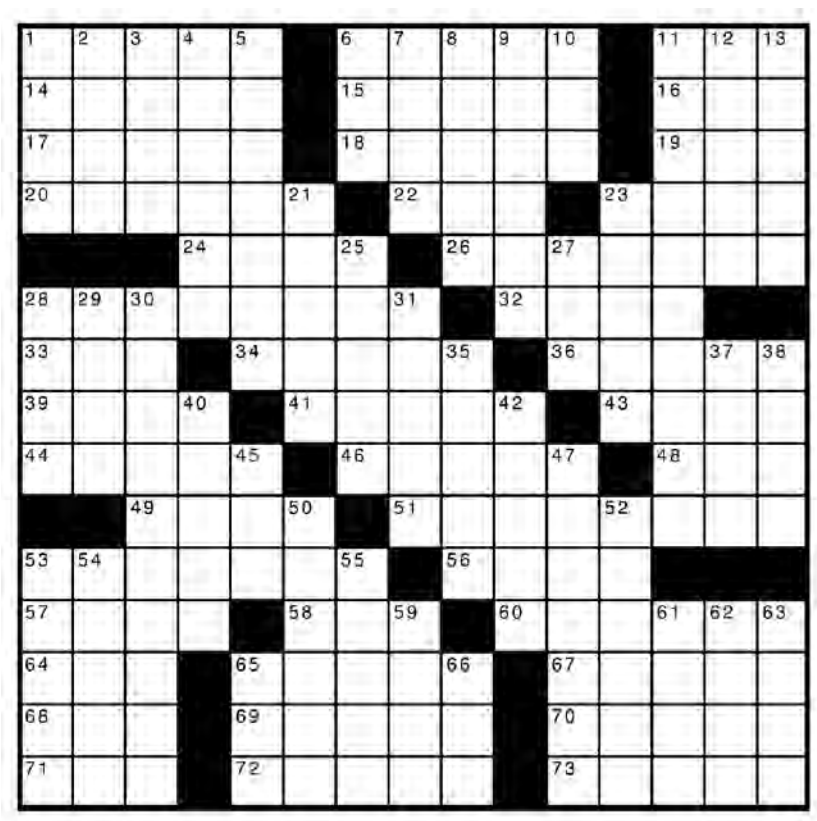

Sometimes that means making an unpopular decision. Sometimes it means telling a friend no. And sometimes it means listening carefully to someone they fundamentally disagree with.

The founders understood government would always be made up of imperfect human beings, which is why they gave us something more important than the promise of good people – they gave us the rule of law.

And the rule of law only works when the people entrusted to administer it remember that the rules apply to them, too.

IS THIS YOU?

The Fluffiest Towels

By Trina Machacek

Every so often I run across a snippet that someone has posted that deals with luxurious towels. Those found in finer hotels and spas and maybe even on worldly cruises. Towels where, when the person wrapped themselves in the downy softness, all their troubles just melted away and they were transported to another world. Maybe even another dimension. I cannot relate to all that softness. But. Yes, a softer than mushy oatmeal "but." I have found, by accident, there is a method of towel organization in the mid-range motels I frequent.

I am not without many memories of motel stays that were, well shall I say just above this side of the tracks. Once we got caught in Salt Lake City during the Mormon conference and had not made a reservation. No rooms were to be found. We were standing in a fully booked hotel lobby trying to decide what to do? A guy who was in the same situation said he was heading over to this one place and added if we hurried, he thought the gal at the desk said this place might have two rooms. So we zipped over. Oh my. Can you say, "Rented by the hour!?" Well, we got the last room. We were also told there were two beds and if we used the second bed there would be an extra charge. We parked and a guy in the next room stuck his head out his door and said, "Psssst. You got any cigarettes?" Yes, it was then that I vowed to NEVER go anywhere again without a reservation. The towels matched the motel.

Today I have grown accustomed to places I have used over and over when I go out of town. I have joined the "clubs" of hotel/motels and have learned which, where and when to stay in the various places I travel to. Most of all I know the rooms and what to expect. Towels do have an order to them in rooms. I didn't know until recently that when a maid places a new towel in a room, she puts it farthest away from the shower or tub. Eventually it gets used, but not every guest uses all the towels put out. You would think every towel is pulled and replaced with all fresh towels. Nope. Only the ones on the floor or hanging get replaced. I cannot say this happens at every establishment, but I think it happens in more of them than it doesn't. I do though, always, always reach for the farthest towel on the rack or on the bar or in the cubby. Nine times out of eleven the farthest one is the newest and fluffiest.

It is not very often that I find myself staying overnight at a friend or relative's home. That was something my other half never like to do. He would refer to that as "not home." So today when I stay out of town I too have come accustomed to staying in a hotel rather than dumping myself into a house of a friend. However. Never say never. I do have a few close friends that live, like me, in places where THEY are the hotels of the area. I stayed at one friend's home and they kindly gave me their room to stay in. I was very uncomfortable. So much so that I slept on top of the bed. Just couldn't convince myself to climb in. She still kids me about that. I haven't been given their room again though. So I am more comfortable and stay there when I go to visit. I have to say of the places I have stayed my friends have all exceeded my soft towel experiences.

Most of us that have company will put out our "best" stuff. Meals are served in bowls and on dishes that are saved for "company." Sheets for overnighters are fresh, clean, a bit of lavender linen spray spritzed on them. Towels might get a bit of fabric softener added to the wash.

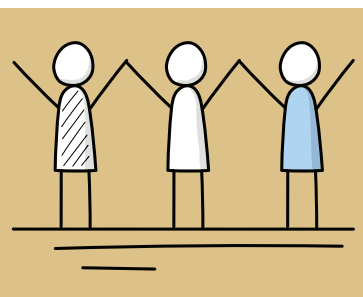

You would think I would do that wouldn't you? Nope. Come to my house and you get the next towel in the pile. I wish I would have the wherewithal to treat not only my guests, but myself, to some fabric softener. Give a bit of fluff to my life. But nope. I save that happy feeling for when I stay where I can reach for the farthest towel and be the first one to feel the new fluff of a towel that, if the truth be told, sat on the shelf for more than one traveler that stayed in my hotel room the night, or two before me. Hello fluffy.

The Moment a Story is Ruined

By Reagan Willis

Have you ever been reading a good book and someone comes along ant tells you what is going to happen in the book? Well, I have. In fact, it happened just a few days ago, and now I don't even want to read the book because they told me what was going to happen. This inspired me to write an article about why you should not spoil a book for others. First off readers often enjoy discovering surprises on their own, feeling suspense, and forming their own reactions to the story. Second When the ending or a big event is already known, the reader loses the excitement of wondering what will happen next. Suspense is one of the things that keeps people turning the pages. Lastly the excitement of discovering new events, connecting with characters, or being surprised by what happens next is ruined for the reader. This is why you should never ruin a book for someone.

The Eureka County Star will feature items sent to us by students from the Eureka County Schools. Specifically, but not limited to, the 7th and 8th graders whom we are proudly supplying copies of our weekly papers to throughout the school year. Education through the newspaper... What an idea!

2026 STATEWIDE BALLOT QUESTIONS

There will be no statewide questions 1-5 on the 2026 General Election ballot. There were a number of ballot initiatives circulated, but none of them gained enough valid signatures to qualify for the General Election ballot. Statewide Question 6 and Question 7 will be on the General Election ballot for the second time. Both ballot questions passed during the 2024 General Election and must be voted on for a second time. If they pass again during the 2026 General Election, they will amend the Nevada Constitution.

STATE QUESTION NO. 6
Amendment to the Nevada Constitution
Initiative Petition C-05-2023

CONDENSATION (Ballot Question)

Should the Nevada Constitution be amended to create an individual's fundamental right to an abortion, without interference by state or local governments, whenever the abortion is performed by a qualified healthcare professional until fetal viability or when necessary to protect the health or life of the pregnant individual at any point during the pregnancy?

Yes o No o

EXPLANATION & DIGEST

EXPLANATION— This initiative, if approved by the voters, amends the Nevada Constitution to create a constitutional right to abortion.

This right to abortion would apply from the start of a person's pregnancy up until the start of "fetal viability," unless the pregnant person needs medical care to protect that person's life or health, in which case the right applies throughout the pregnancy. "Fetal viability" means "the point in pregnancy when, in the professional judgment of the patient's treating health care practitioner, there is a significant likelihood of the fetus' sustained survival outside the uterus without the application of extraordinary medical measures."

The initiative makes clear that the State of Nevada, including county and city governments in Nevada, generally cannot not interfere with this right. But a state, county, or city government can interfere with the right if there is a "compelling state interest" in doing so. A "compelling state interest" exists only if the government uses the least restrictive means to protect or improve the pregnant person's life or health in ways that follow clinical standards of practice.

Lastly, this proposed right to abortion does not require or force any individual in Nevada to have an abortion. Instead, it creates a right that allows an individual to make their own decision.

A "Yes" vote would create a new section of the Nevada Constitution to establish a person's constitutional right to abortion, so that a person can make decisions about matters relating to abortion and reproductive healthcare, without interference from state or local governments.

A "No" vote would keep the Nevada Constitution in its current form and would not impact the availability of abortion as a statutory right under Nevada law.

DIGEST—Existing law states that abortions are legal in Nevada and must occur within 24 weeks after the start of the pregnancy. An exception currently exists to allow an abortion after 24 weeks if a physician reasonably believes that an abortion is necessary to preserve the pregnant person's life or health. Existing law also requires that abortions performed after the 24th week of pregnancy be performed in a hospital licensed by the State of Nevada.

If approved by the voters, this ballot measure would add a new section to Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution with the following information.

Section 1 of this amendment to the Nevada Constitution would create a "fundamental right to abortion." This means that the Nevada Constitution would make abortion a legal option for all individuals, not just Nevadans, that is protected by the Nevada Constitution. The proposed amendment also includes the right to have an abortion procedure done by a qualified healthcare professional.

The amendment proposes that the right to an abortion would extend until "fetal viability, or when needed to protect the life or health of the pregnant patient." "Fetal viability" means "the point in pregnancy when, in the professional judgment of the patient's treating health care practitioner, there is a significant likelihood of the fetus' sustained survival outside the uterus without the application of extraordinary medical measures."

If the abortion would be necessary to protect the pregnant person's life or health, the proposed amendment allows an abortion procedure to be carried out after the start of fetal viability.

The proposed amendment would also generally prevent the State of Nevada or any of its political subdivisions (e.g., the Nevada Legislature, county and city governments) from interfering with the constitutional right to abortion. State and local governments can interfere with this right only if they have a "compelling state interest" in doing so. A "compelling state interest" exists only if the government uses the least restrictive means to protect or improve the pregnant person's life or health in ways that follow clinical standards of practice.

Section 2 of the proposed constitutional amendment states that if any part of the amendment is challenged in court, then the rest of the amendment is not affected and remains in force. This section ensures that the right to abortion is protected to the greatest extent possible in the event of future lawsuits.

ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

Decisions about abortion should be left to women and qualified healthcare professionals, who take a pledge to act in their patients' best interest. When it comes to something as personal and complicated as pregnancy, politicians are never more qualified to make healthcare decisions than women and their doctors. That's why it is so important to vote YES on this amendment.

People across Nevada are voting YES because:

- YES protects doctors so that they will never have to risk jail time just to treat the patient in front of them .
- Extreme abortion bans are already in place across the country – from Texas to Florida to right next door in Utah and Arizona – and they are having dangerous effects. A 10-year-old girl from Ohio who was raped had to travel to Indiana to get the abortion she needed , and in Texas, one woman who miscarried lost liters of blood and had to go on a breathing machine before doctors could legally help her . YES protects the right to abortion in our state for good, so these tragic stories can never happen here.
- YES establishes a permanent layer of protection so that no matter who holds office in our state, extreme abortion bans cannot become law in Nevada.

YES keeps families – not politicians – in charge of their own healthcare decisions, so that women can make these personal decisions in consultation with their doctors and those they love and trust.

We should trust women and doctors to make the right decisions for their own situations without government getting involved. If this amendment fails, future generations could have fewer rights and freedoms than their parents and grandparents . Vote YES to keep politicians out of our personal, private decisions.

Question 6 has no fiscal or environmental impact.

The above argument was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens in favor of this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Lindsey Harmon (Chair), Denise Lopez, and Bradley Schrager. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

Do you want courts and judges making decisions about pregnancy instead of women and doctors?

Vote NO to stop courts from invading your personal, private medical decisions.

Vote NO to protect our current abortion laws. There literally cannot be "any reasonable degree of certainty" what laws will change or how much you will have to pay to fund abortion with Question 6. Vote NO.

Do you want to spend millions of taxpayer dollars to fund abortions through all 9-months of pregnancy? Do you want to write a blank check to use taxpayer money to pay for abortions? Last year, California spent $200 million on an abortion- funding package to pay for abortions and even to create a website explaining how to have the state pay for an abortion "at no cost to you." Don't want that policy? Vote NO.

Here's a list of people NOT mentioned in Question 6:

- Women and girls – No specific protection.
- Mothers and parents – No specific protection.
- Doctors – No specific protection.

A young mother in Las Vegas recently bled to death after taking abortion pills. Protect our current law, women and doctors, keep the courts out of our personal lives, and vote NO.

The above rebuttal was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens opposed to this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Emily Mimnaugh (Chair) and Jason Guinasso. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

Vote NO to stop Question 6 from re-writing our State Constitution.

Vote No to stop Question 6 from writing a blank check to fund unlimited, 9-month abortions using taxpayer money.

Question 6 may force you the taxpayer to pay for abortions. The cost and fiscal impact of Question 6 cannot be determined: It may cost taxpayers MORE than $120-million-dollars every year.

Vote NO to protect our current abortion law. Abortion is legal in Nevada. Currently, doctors can do abortions—without restriction—up to 24 weeks (6 months). After that, it's also allowed to save the mom's life or health.

Our current law is more pro-choice than Roe v. Wade. Only voters can change our state's abortion law, and it hasn't changed in decades. Unlike Nevada, other states have recently changed their abortion laws, and "litigation has exploded." Vote NO to keep the courts out of private, personal decisions.

If you like the current law, protect it: Vote NO. If you don't like the current law, vote NO so it's not even harder to fix.

Question 6 has no bright-line rule saying when abortion is legal. Is it always legal at 4 months? 6 months? 9 months? Our current law is clear. Question 6 is not.

Question 6 has no bright-line rule saying when taxpayers must pay for abortions. Do taxpayers pay for an optional abortion at 9 months? Our current law is clear. Question 6 is not.

What about doctors? Can a non-doctor perform a surgical abortion at 9 months outside a hospital? Question 6 may not stop this, but the current law protects women. Vote NO.

What about parents? Can a non-doctor perform a secret surgical abortion on a 13-year-old girl? Question 6 may not stop this, but the current law protects children and parents. Vote NO.
When laws are unclear, the result is expensive lawsuits. The legal, fiscal and environmental impacts of Question 6 are unknown. Lawsuits cost taxpayers money.

Vote NO because Question 6 is:

- Dangerous: It lets people who aren't doctors do abortions.
- Wrong: It allows abortions through all 9 months of pregnancy.
- Harmful: It strips out rules that keep women safe.
- Expensive: It may cause lawsuits and cost millions to fund abortions.
- Unwanted: It changes our current abortion laws which are clear.

Keep our laws clear. Keep tax spending transparent. Keep courts out of abortion. Keep decisions between women and doctors. Vote NO.

The above argument was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens opposed to this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Emily Mimnaugh (Chair) and Jason Guinasso. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

The people against this amendment are lying to scare voters. Nevadans know that a woman may end a pregnancy for many different reasons. We also know that women and doctors do not decide on an abortion later in pregnancy unless there is a serious reason, like a risk to her life or pregnancy.

And this amendment does nothing to change parental rights in Nevada, because we all want young people to get the support they need from those who love them when making decisions.

All this amendment does is ensure families – not politicians – are in charge of their own health care decisions and can make the right choice for their unique situations without government getting in the way.

When families are making difficult, personal medical decisions, one-size-fits all laws don't work. As bans across the country are already putting lives at risk, this amendment adds a permanent layer of protection for abortion rights in Nevada so that no matter who holds office in our state, these extreme bans cannot become law here.

Again, this amendment has no fiscal or tax implications.

The above rebuttal was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens in favor of this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Lindsey Harmon (Chair), Denise Lopez, and Bradley Schrager. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

FISCAL NOTE

FINANCIAL IMPACT – CANNOT BE DETERMINED

OVERVIEW

The Statewide Constitutional Initiative Petition – Identifier: C-05-2023 (Initiative) proposes to amend Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution by adding a new section, designated as Section 25, establishing a fundamental right to abortion performed or administered by a qualified health care practitioner until fetal viability, or when needed to protect the life or health of the pregnant patient, without interference from the state or its political subdivisions, unless the denial of that right is justified by a compelling state interest that is achieved by the least restrictive means.

FINANCIAL IMPACT OF THE INITIATIVE

Pursuant to Article 19, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution, an initiative proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution must be approved by the voters at two successive general elections in order to become a part of the Constitution. If this Initiative is approved by voters at the November 2024 and November 2026 General Elections, the provisions of the Initiative would become effective on the fourth Tuesday of November 2026 (November 24, 2026), when the votes are canvassed by the Supreme Court pursuant to NRS 293.395.

If this Initiative is approved by the voters at the November 2024 and November 2026 General Elections, the Legislature may be required to evaluate existing laws governing abortion to determine whether they are in compliance with the provisions of this amendment. If it is determined that existing laws are not in compliance, it is possible that the amount of resources utilized by the State or local governments for the administration or enforcement of new abortion laws that would comply with these provisions may be affected.

However, because it is unknown what laws, if any, may not be in compliance with the provisions of the Initiative, nor is it known how the Legislature may revise existing laws if they are determined to not comply with these provisions, the financial effect upon the State or local governments cannot be determined with any reasonable degree of certainty.

Prepared by the Fiscal Analysis Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau – August 1, 2024

FULL TEXT OF THE MEASURE

Explanation - Matter in italics is new; matter between brackets [omitted material] is material to be omitted.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS

Sec. 1. That a new section, designated Section 25, be added to Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 1. All individuals shall have a fundamental right to abortion performed or administered by a qualified health care practitioner until fetal viability, or when needed to protect the life or health of the pregnant patient, without interference from the state or its political subdivisions. The right established by this section shall not be denied, burdened, or infringed upon unless justified by a compelling state interest that is achieved by the least restrictive means.

Sec. 2. As used in this section: A "compelling state interest" means an interest which is limited exclusively to the state's interest in protecting, maintaining, or improving the health of an individual who is seeking abortion care that is consistent with accepted clinical standards of practice; and "Fetal viability" means the point in pregnancy when, in the professional judgment of the patient's treating health care practitioner, there is a significant likelihood of the fetus' sustained survival outside the uterus without the application of extraordinary medical measures.

Sec. 2. Severability. If any part of this Act be declared invalid, or the application thereof to any person, thing or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining provisions or application of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable. This subsection shall be construed broadly to preserve and effectuate the declared purpose of this Act.

STATE QUESTION NO. 7
Amendment to the Nevada Constitution
Initiative Petition C-02-2023

CONDENSATION (Ballot Question)
Should the Nevada Constitution be amended to require voters to either present photo identification to verify their identity when voting in-person or to provide certain personal information to verify their identity when voting by mail ballot?

Yes o No o

EXPLANATION & DIGEST

EXPLANATION— This initiative, if enacted, changes Article 2 of the Nevada Constitution to create a requirement for voters to provide identification before they receive a ballot.

Voters who vote in-person at a polling place would need to show an ID that is current or that has not been expired for more than four years. If a voter is more than 70 years old, the identification could be expired for any length of time so long as it is otherwise valid.

The acceptable forms of identification include:

1. Nevada driver's license.
2. Identification card issued by the State of Nevada, any other State, or the US Government.
3. Employee photo identification card issued by the US government, Nevada government, or any county, municipality, board, authority, or other Nevada government entity.
4. US passport.
5. US military identification card.
6. Student photo identification card issued by a Nevada public college, university, or technical school.
7. Tribal photo identification.
8. Nevada concealed firearms permit.
9. Other form of government-issued photo identification that the Legislature may approve.

Voters who vote by mail ballot would need to include certain information so that election officials can use it to verify the voter's identity. That information includes:

1. The last four digits of their Nevada driver's license number.
2. If the voter does not possess a Nevada driver's license, the last four digits of their Social Security number.
3. If the voter has neither a Nevada driver's license or a Social Security number, the number provided by the county clerk when the voter registered to vote.

A "Yes" vote would amend Article 2 of the Nevada Constitution to require in-person Nevada voters present certain identification and mail ballot voters to provide certain information in order to cast a legal ballot.

A "No" vote would keep the Nevada Constitution in its current form.

DIGEST—Under current law, Nevada voters must only show identification in certain situations. These situations are rare and related to the method and timing of how they register to vote.

Currently only voters who register to vote by mail or computer, or who preregisters to vote by mail or computer, and who has not previously voted in an election for federal office in Nevada must provide identification. Additionally, state law requires voters who register to vote online less than14 days before an election must also vote in-person and present an identification and proof of residency.

If approved by a vote by the voters during the 2024 general election it would go to the 2026 general election ballot for additional approval. If approved there, the Nevada Legislature could create related laws through legislation during the 2027 Legislative Session and these changes would go into effect for the 2028 election cycle.

ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

Flaws in the nation's registration and voting laws are being seen as creating a lack of confidence in election outcomes. Many people lost trust in how elections were run.

New voting technology raised worries about mistakes. More mail-in ballots also led to fears of fraud. A national bipartisan committee reviewed voting laws in many states. One of their recommendations in their report was to require Voter ID.

Requiring voters to show a photo ID before voting is a sensible and effective step to help make our elections

As of 2024, 36 states have laws requiring photo ID for voting. There have been no major complaints in these states, and, contrary to what people were told would happen, turnout has not decreased.

Some argue that requiring a photo ID would unfairly impact minorities. They say that many minorities and low-income people don't have a photo ID. This is not true, because people need a photo ID to apply for a job, cash a check, use a credit card, apply for a loan, see a doctor, pick up a prescription, apply to college, buy alcohol or tobacco, get on a plane, check into a hotel, and vote in some union elections.

Nevada law requires those who don't register in person show identification and address the first time they vote. This doesn't have to be a photo ID. It can be a utility bill or some other official document that shows only their name and address. Also, this is only for the first time they vote. After that, there is no requirement to show an ID when voting.

Others say that voter fraud is rare. However, identity theft is a growing problem. Close elections also show the need for every vote to be legal. For example, a 2002 race in Nevada ended in a tie. Former U.S. Attorney Jennifer Arbittier Williams said, "If even one vote has been illegally cast… it diminishes faith in the process."

Requiring a photo ID has no environmental, public health, safety, or welfare impact.

A photo ID requirement will help people trust our election system and make sure that every vote is valid. Vote "YES" on Question 7.

The above argument was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens in favor of this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: David Gibbs (Chair), Chuck Muth, and David O'Mara. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

The people who support Question 7 talk a lot about fear and mistrust. They've spent years trying to make us doubt our election system. But they can't show us even one time when voter ID would have actually made our elections safer in Nevada.

They don't tell you what bad things voter ID will stop because there haven't been any. They don't mention that identity theft has never changed any election here. They don't talk about how many Nevadans—people just like you and me—don't have the ID that Question 7 needs. They also don't explain how Question 7 helps people get those IDs. It doesn't.

They just say that other states have voter ID and people there like it. But remember, not everyone does things like cash checks, go to college, or fly on planes. These aren't like voting. Voting is a right we all have to choose our leaders. We shouldn't stop anyone who can vote from voting.

Think about this: you're more likely to get hit by a meteor than to find someone cheating by pretending to be someone else when they vote. Question 7 is a step back for our democracy.

The above rebuttal was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens opposed to this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Jennifer Fleischmann Willoughby (Chair), Daniel Bravo, and Jessica Rodriguez. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

When it comes to voting rights, we shouldn't be leaving anyone behind. The ID requirements in Question 7 will mean fewer eligible people will cast ballots, while the new law would do nothing to prevent voter fraud.

The measure's supporters say they want more confidence in elections, but they don't tell you that impersonating someone else at the polls never happens. One study found that out of more than a billion votes cast, it happened 31 times—statistically zero. You have a better chance of being struck by lightning. Question 7 overreacts to a problem that simply does not exist.

And the risks of Question 7 are big. It does not ensure that Nevadans have the kinds of ID the law demands, IDs that cost money and take time to get. Voters living in rural or tribal communities will have to travel long distances to a DMV to receive an ID. In fact, almost 21% of all voting-age Americans don't have a valid driver's license with their current name and address. In terms of Nevada's population, that would equal more than half a million people.

Studies have shown that strict voter ID laws reduce turnout among underserved communities and communities of color, making it harder to have their voices heard at the ballot box.

Voter ID laws are also a waste of taxpayer dollars. Indiana, for example, spent over $10 million to produce free ID cards between 2007 and 2010.

Question 7 will keep eligible Nevadans from voting and won't improve election integrity. Vote no on laws that reduce participation in democracy, like Question 7.

Requiring a photo ID has no environmental impact.

The above argument was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens opposed to this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: Jennifer Fleischmann Willoughby (Chair), Daniel Bravo, and Jessica Rodriguez. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

Opponents say that "impersonating someone else at the polls never happens." But without a photo ID required, how can they be sure?

To try to back their argument, opponents cite an opinion column from Washington, DC, from over ten years ago. This was before Nevada adopted new election laws in 2021.

Opponents also claim that "21% of all voting-age Americans don't have a valid driver's license." However, the same study shows that only 1% lack some other acceptable photo ID. The Legislature can find a way to help these voters, just like 36 other states have done.

Opponents say voter ID laws "reduce turnout" among minorities. But the same study also says that "the research is mixed on whether ID laws actually reduce turnout."

A similar claim was made against Georgia's photo ID law in 2021. Yet, Georgia's Secretary of State reported that turnout in the 2022 general election set new records after the law took effect.

The bottom line is this: Requiring a Photo ID won't make it harder to vote. It will make it harder to cheat. Vote YES on Question 7.

The above rebuttal was submitted by the Ballot Question Committee composed of citizens in favor of this question as provided for in NRS 293.252. Committee members: David Gibbs (Chair), Chuck Muth, and David O'Mara. This argument can also be found at www.nvsos.gov.

FISCAL NOTE

FINANCIAL IMPACT – YES

OVERVIEW

The Statewide Constitutional Initiative Petition – Identifier: C-02-2023 (Initiative) proposes to amend Article 2 of the Nevada Constitution by adding new Sections 1B and 1C, as follows:

- Section 1B would require the presentation of a specified form of identification in order to vote in person in an election in Nevada, either through early voting or on election day.
- Section 1C would require voters who submit a mail-in ballot to provide certain specified information in order to verify that voter's identity.

FINANCIAL IMPACT OF THE INITIATIVE

Pursuant to Article 19, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution, an initiative proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution must be approved by the voters at two successive general elections in order to become a part of the Constitution. If this Initiative is approved by voters at the November 2024 and November 2026 General Elections, the provisions of the Initiative would become effective on the fourth Tuesday of November 2026 (November 24, 2026), when the votes are canvassed by the Supreme Court pursuant to NRS 293.395.

The provisions of the Initiative are anticipated to have a financial impact upon the State and local governments relating to procedures and systems utilized during the election process. The Secretary of State's Office has indicated that these provisions will require modifications to processes and systems related to check-in of voters at the polling location and verification of mail-in ballots, as well as ensuring that the statewide voter registration system is modified to ensure that all data necessary to implement the provisions of the Initiative is captured.

Based on information provided by the Secretary of State's Office, the estimated costs to make these changes to voter systems in Nevada would be approximately $6,750, and these changes would need to be made in time for the elections that would be held in the year 2028.

The provisions of the Initiative additionally allow the Legislature to determine additional forms of valid identification that can be used to verify identity for voting, aside from those already specified in the Initiative, which the Fiscal Analysis Division assumes will need to be created by the Legislature for those people who do not have or cannot obtain another form of allowable identification.

The Fiscal Analysis Division additionally assumes that this alternate form of voter identification will be provided to the voter at no cost, which means that the cost for these identification documents will be wholly borne by the State or by one or more local governments. However, the Initiative does not specify the form which these alternative identification documents must take, nor does it specify which agency or agencies (either at the state or local level) will be required to provide these documents. Additionally, it is unknown how many registered voters will not have one of the specified documents that would be acceptable to provide as proof of identity for in-person voting, who would need to be issued one of these alternative documents.

Thus, the financial effect upon the State or local governments relating to the issuance of an alternative identity document to those voters who will require such a document in order to vote in person cannot be determined with any reasonable degree of certainty.

Prepared by the Fiscal Analysis Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau – July 29, 2024
